

2017 Parent-Child Weekend
at Camp St. Charles
May 5-7, 2017

Purpose: To provide parents and children an opportunity to enjoy camp activities together and to provide a “dry run” of summer camp for families that are interested in learning more about our over night camps for the summer.

Schedule: On Friday evening, families will arrive between 5 and 8pm. Friday traffic can be a challenge, please call if you are running late. Camp will provide refreshments and group games, a campfire or other activities while other families arrive and settle in. Campers (Children ages 6-13) will stay in camper cabins and parents will stay in other cabins.

Saturday will run like a typical camp day. We will provide 3 meals. Children and parents will be organized into teams for the day’s activities. The schedule will depend on the staff members that are available for the weekend and we will offer as many camp activities as possible. We will offer some of the following...arts and crafts, sports, archery, riflery, boating, environmental education and challenge course. Parents and children will participate in activities together.

Sunday morning we will have breakfast and then will begin the parent-child competitions. These are fun and often messy contests that wrap up our weekend.

Who may attend? The goal of the weekend is to prepare prospective new campers for their first summer camp experience with Camp St. Charles. Camp provides summer adventures for campers ages 6-13 years old but younger siblings are welcome to come to the weekend. Most of our weekend campers are 6-11 years old and are considering attending Camp St. Charles in the summer.

Cost? The cost of the weekend is $50 per person. A child may attend with an adult sibling or other adult if a parent cannot attend. Our staff members volunteer their time to provide the weekend so we are able to keep the costs low. Some families choose to make a donation to help support the camp program in addition to the weekend fee. Those donations are very much appreciated.

There is no charge for children 3 years old or younger and have housing for families with young children.
